

PI-1000

Advanced Aviation Training Device

G1000 Training Solution

The PI-1000 is an FAA Approved Advanced Aviation Training Device (AATD) with a versatile aircraft platform—single and twin engine, simple and complex aircraft can all be flown.

The PI-1000 includes the following aircraft:

- Cessna 172R
- Cessna 172S
- Cessna 182T
- Cessna T182T
- Beechcraft Baron G58
- Cessna 206
- Cessna T206
- Diamond DA40
- Diamond DA42

FAA Approved AATD

Part 61 & Part 141 Approvals Including Credit Toward Private, Instrument, Commercial & ATP Certificates, and Recency of Experience for IFR

This proven, high fidelity G1000 simulation software provides about 85% of real G1000 functionality—far and away more than other simulations. Here are some of the features that separate the PI-1000 from its competitors:

- Updatable worldwide Navigraph navigation database
- Obstacle icons, terrain, airways, and waypoints on the map page
- VNAV and VPTH waypoint navigation
- LPV WAAS Approaches coupled with the Automated Flight Control System
- iPad Connectivity for use with ForeFlight & other aviation apps*
- Departure and arrival procedures
- Missed approach procedures
- Coupled holds and procedure turns
- TAWS-B, TCAS, & SafeTaxi

Features are continuously added for even more G1000 functionality
